Offences u/s 506 (I) and 504 PPC are compoundable in nature while remaining offences are non-compoundable. However, the offences u/s 506 (I) and 504 PPC are major and main offences as punishments provided for these offences are more than other offences while remaining offences are minor in nature and the punishments provided for these offences are also less than the major offences with accused are charged with.

Since complainant has affected compromise in major offences, which are compoundable in nature, hence the same compromise can also be considered in non-compoundable minor offences under Principle of Merger as it seems in the best interest of justice as well as in the interest of parties. Therefore, by accepting the compromise, the accused are acquitted from the charges leveled against them, their sureties are absolved from the liability of bail bonds.

File be consigned to the record room after its necessary completion and compilation.
