| ,40                               | Strick Zai and                  | 4. The accused/petitioner has directly been charged for  | the commission of offence. The Police personnel sustained injuries. The allegations are supported by direct and circumstantial evidence on its face. One of the alleged offences carries punishment which is hit by the prohibitory clause of Section 497 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898.

- 5. It is important to note here that the sole fact that the accused/petitioner has individually and jointly attempted at the life of the officers and officials of the different departments of the Government in a well organized manner provides exceptional circumstances and as such the case in hand would requires special dispensation. The incident manifestly portrays collective behavior of recourse to use of force against law. A society which does not have respect for Law and writ of the State could be held to have cracks in its mainframe.
- 6. For what has been discussed above, bail petition stands dismissed being meritless. File be consigned to District Record Room Orakzai after completion and compilation within the span allowed for. The Police record be returned with copy of this Order forthwith.

7. Announced in open Court.
